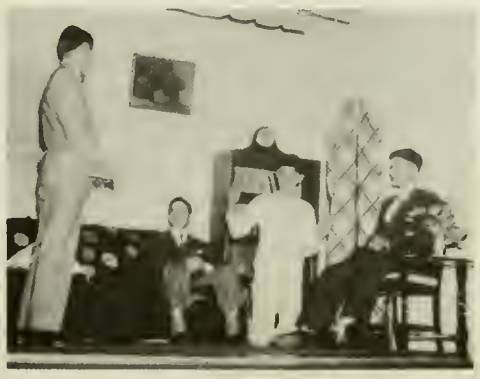
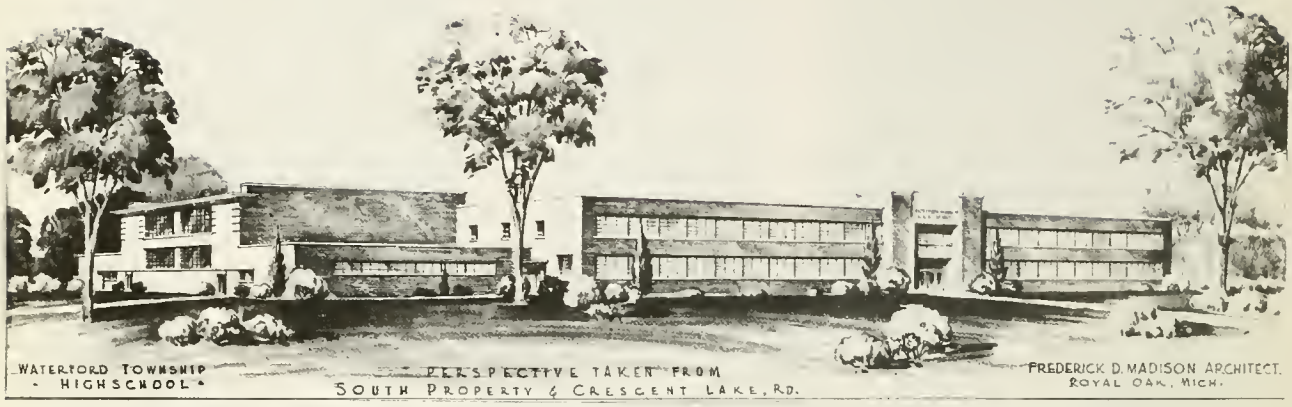
Joyfully classified by their fellow students as "Big Wheels" these students stood out in the quarters of the "W.T.H.S." as they did many things to make the cruise more enjoyable.

School days went past so fast it seemed that we hadn't accomplished a thing. Dances, plays, and sports kept the boiler boiling in the good ole' ship "Waterford" all the time. Yes sir! The crew of the "W.T.H.S." never slowed down on that eventful cruise of 1948-1949.



NEW SCHOOL



The year 1951 is hoped to be a milestone in the history of Waterford Township High School, for it is then that the class of 1951, the present sophomores, will become the first class to graduate from the permanent high school. The proposed building will contain fifty classrooms and have facilities for many activities that are lacking in the temporary building.

SCHOOL BUSSES

Pictured above are the Waterford Township school buses that did such a commendable job during the '48-'49 school year. Hauling students for both shifts and other necessary routes really added up the mileage on these buses, but rain, sleet or snow they kept on the road.

LIBRARY

These are some of the people who acted as librarians during the afternoon. Their duty was to check books out and keep the library in order. Mrs. Carter, who is head of the library, taught the girls the fundamentals of the work. Several girls and boys are in the library during each hour.

HALLS OF W.T.H.S.

This picture of the morning shift was taken between first and second hours as the students passed to classes. It shows how crowded our halls really are when there are 300 students milling about. However, the feeling of sardines sort of added the element of fun. Anyway, who has more fun than students at Waterford High?

P.M. STUDENT COUNCIL

A.M. STUDENT COUNCIL

TYPING CLASS

Future stenographers? One never knows, but if Miss Avey has anything to say about it, they will be right up at the top with the rest of the keyboard wizards. Both shifts put these typewriters through their paces in hopes that they soon will be accomplished typists. Notice the diligence with which W.T.H.S. students work? The typing class is no exception. Miss Avey and charges manage nicely as long as everyone works!

PHYSICS CLASS

Mr. Lake's physics class completed numerous experiments throughout the year with the usual result--success! These energetic students, led by their teacher, Mr. Arthur Lake, whipped through the physics course in fine shape, hardly ever reaching a problem that would stump them. This class lacks quantity of students, but apparently, judging from their marks, makes up for it with quality.

CO-OP TRAINING

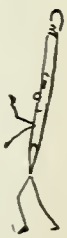
A practical course was offered this year in the category of co-op training. This course was supervised by Mr. William Bawden, and proved to be an interesting course for those who took it. Classroom work and practical work were evenly divided. The students gained practical experience by clerking in township stores, while Mr. Bawden gave them technical data in Room 106.

SPEECH CLASS

Perhaps one of the most interesting and helpful classes that students of W.T.H.S. can enroll in are the speech classes. Under the supervision of Miss Patty Looman they learned the art of debate, salesmanship, public speaking, and radio. Advanced speech work was available to those who had previous experience and were interested in dramatics, public speaking, and radio.

A R T

Under the supervision of Miss Hills, the art class kept themselves busy during the year. Their greatest contribution to the school was the mural on sports, which is in the hall. The mural shows the different sports played at the different seasons of the year. Students responsible were: Jean Allen, Jerry Jones, Marilyn Doelle, Marilyn Hargraves, Louise Clark, and Margaret Reed.



Model villages were made by the fourth and fifth hour art classes. The students had to draw a floor plan and picture, make a scale and then build their houses from these. Most of the houses were made of cardboard and put on a large cardboard platform. They were painted and cellophane was used for the windows. Cloth and cotton and many other things were used for grass, and twigs from trees to represent trees. Little pebbles were used for rocks. These houses required two months of diligent work.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

BOWLING OFFICERS

"Strike! Great goin', fella!" This and many other exclamations of joy (or sorrow) are heard each Wednesday as the keglers of Waterford High meet to match their skill in a battle for points. The officers for the afternoon group are as follows: Arlo Flesher, president; Wayne Johnson, vice-president; Sally Eaton, secretary; Max Stamp, treasurer. Mrs. Isaacson and Miss Houghton are sponsors for this group.

"C'mon, gang! Let's beat those guys!" This spirit of "get out and win" is predominant in the bowling teams of the morning session as they steam those balls down the alley to score their points. The winning team for this group is: Elbert Whitaker, Bob Pearson, Art Ruelle, Bob Turnbull, and John Boaz. Jimmy Long is secretary for the group.

BOWLING LEAGUE

VARSITY DEBATE TEAM

Waterford's varsity debate team completed its second year of interscholastic competition with a respectable win-loss record of 5 and 5. After reviewing a list of the schools that offered us competition it is fortunate indeed that the .500 was posted.

The team, consisting of Joyce Mayo and Jack White, affirmatives, and Pat Maxwell and Sherwood Ebey, negatives debated the proposition supplied by the Michigan High School Forensic Association, "Resolved, that the United Nations should be revised into a World Federal Government now!"

Double wins were posted over Rochester in the opener, students here at W.T.H.S. saw the split with the Howell team, Warren Township held us to a split, and the final regular debate of the season saw the experienced Hamtramck team take a double win from the Waterford regulars. However, that did not end the season for Patty and Sherwood as they went on to the district meet in Flint. At the district meet they defeated Sandusky, but bowed out in the quarter-finals to Hazel Park.

Rounding out the successful season, the debaters were guests of the University of Michigan in the late spring. This convention honored the outstanding high schools of Michigan for their fine job of debating.

The Detroit Free Press, which co-sponsored the above-mentioned gathering, presented Waterford High with a wall plaque for excellence in high school debating. Individual members received a certificate of merit. The Free Press has been sponsoring this type of program for many years, and only last year presented W.T.H.S. a plaque for an outstanding performance in the field of debate.

DRAMATICS CLUB

Probably the number one club of W.T.H.S. is the "Footlight Revelers." This organization totals a membership of 60 with Miss Patty Looman at the reins as supervisor. Commonly called the Dramatics Club, this club presented two three-act plays during the year.

Betty Knapp's "Inner Willy" was the lead off with Bob Brown and Bob Webb sharing the lead roles. The performance increased the treasury by $187.12 after filling the auditorium on November 14 and 15. A serious dramatic performance was the second production given March 25 and 26. "Last Stop" was the highlight of the year, and proved to be a smash success. Fortunately Miss Looman, director, coach and what have you, was around.

During the first part of the year the club met on Tuesday nights from 7:00 to 8:15 P.M., and then after the change of shifts they met Tuesday afternoons from 1:00 to 2:30 P.M.

SHOWBOAT

ASSEMBLED CAST

"Showboat," on its second voyage of its short career, docked successfully at the W.T.H.S. pier, January 14 and 15. Aided by two valuable Co-Captains, Beverly Coopes and Robert Brown, the "Showboat" presented a smash show after landing in a dense fog, (if you don't remember).

The captains, along with a cast of 80 juniors, presented their acts consisting of the minstrel circle, can-can, melodramas, vocalists, and countless others making a success. The citizens of Waterford, loving entertainment as much as ever, turned out in full force, filling the auditorium both nights. The total attendance for both nights was close to 800 people. Proceeds of both performances hit $250.12. Miss Patty Looman, director, led the "Showboat" cast for the second consecutive year.

SWIMMING

Splashing happily in the clear blue water, the swimmers of Waterford Township High School learn the "do's and don't's" of that great sport. Cooperation and friendly companionship helped to make this course an enjoyable one and well worth taking.

INNER WILLY

"Inner Willy" was a hilarious comedy in which Willy's aunts tried to keep him under their feathers. Willy's conscience, Inner Willy, protested. In the end Willy wins out.

NEPTUNE'S FESTIVAL

The chain of events during the evening led to the coronation of the king and queen. For a week preceding the carnival, jars were placed in the corridor, encouraging students to vote for their favorite. The larger net returns from the carnival showed the king and queen contest as high. The total receipts amounted to $185. The victors in this popularity race were Joan Kray of the junior class, and Burt Fangel of the senior class. Presenting the awards in the above picture is Sally Eaton, secretary of the class of '49, and Bob Webb, prexy of the senior class.

Some of the reasons for the cash gain of $400 are these: the ship's store, the fish pond, Sambo game, dart and balloon game, bean guessing contest, and the cakewalk. Others were: Fortune telling, fudge sale, galley, house of mystery, and pitching pennies.

For the second consecutive year Waterford's residents have turned out to make the annual senior affair a huge success.

WA - TO - HI - SE STAFF

Struggling to meet a deadline, the twenty-five members of the Wa-To-Hi-Se staff managed to issue eighteen editions of the school paper, as well as to study the fundamentals and history of journalism.

The paper registered in a big way with the students at W.T.H.S., mainly because of the new method by which it was printed. This method, offset printing, in contrast to last year's mimeographed Wa-To-Hi-Se, was provided by the General Printing and Office Supply Company in Pontiac.

In the line of book-work, the class undertook the history of journalism from Caesar's "News-Letters" to the modern "Daily Blast," and also a study of the principles of modern newspaper writing including features, news articles, and editorials.

Several outside activities occupied the journalists time, among these being a trip to General Printing, a visit to the University of Michigan on May 13 to attend the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association Conference, and the annual Journalism Banquet to honor the departing members of the staff.

Special features which added to the quality of the paper include the clever art work of Jean Allen, "News in Brief," short items of interest, "Stuff and Nonsense," a humorous group of newsy articles, and "Bobby Bluengold," a column written by Bob Webb.

YEARBOOK STAFF

You might call this annual staff very liberal. The first day a yearbook was mentioned we decided not to have the customary style carried by most annuals. So, striving for originality, we came up with this casual method of presenting the memorable school days and activities of the past year. This style presents a tabloid review of Waterford's happenings in a novel way.

It is the hope of the staff that you enjoy the pictures of school life, personalities, classes, and organizations, along with the presentation of sports, faculty and class pictures. We hope you enjoy the annual as much as we enjoyed getting it ready for you.

So from the staff and adviser we would like to say, "Thanks for the cooperation and here's hoping you like the fruit of our labor!"

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The year 1948 was a milestone in the gridiron history of Waterford Township High School. Under the leadership of Mr. Ortiz and Captain Leo Larkin, the team, the "Skippers," felt the thrill of victory for the first time when the Rochester junior varsity team was dumped 7-0. The students' enthusiasm and the attitude of the team showed definite possibilities for future football glory.

The 1948 "Skippers" grid record includes:

Waterford--7 - 32--St. Michael
Waterford--0 - 19--Bloomfield
Waterford--0 - 13--Madison
Waterford--7 - 12--Frazer
Waterford--0 - 0---South Lyons
Waterford--7 - 0---Rochester
Waterford--7 - 11--Clarkston
Waterford--0 - 13--Cranbrook
Waterford--6 - 27--Bloomfield

BASEBALL

An outstanding individual can do a great deal more toward winning a game in baseball than he can in football. For this reason, Waterford's first horsehide season was much more of a success than its initial grid season (1947). The hardwood boys managed to cop four victories while being handed six defeats.

Jack Davidson (now of the U.S. Coast Guard) was great in pitching W.T.H.S. to two victories, while bowing in defeat only once. The two wins were against Detroit Country Day 13-0 on one hit, and against Clarkston 14-0 without one base knock. However, Jack had wonderful support, as can be seen from the scores.

The complete 1948 record follows:

Waterford---2 - 5---Clarkston
Waterford---4 - 1---Auburn Hts.
Waterford--13 - 0---Country Day
Waterford---5 - 7---Log Cabin
Waterford---3 - 4---Log Cabin
Waterford--14 - 0---Clarkston
Waterford---5 - 1---Country Day
Waterford---2 - 3---Auburn Hts.
Waterford---6 - 13--Big Beaver
Waterford---9 - 11--Big Beaver

Results of the 1949 season were not available when the annual went to press.

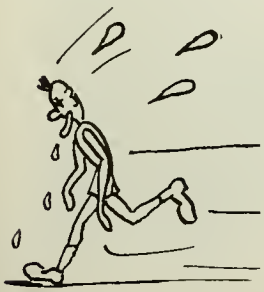
TRACK

The year 1949 marked the beginning of a new competitive sport at Waterford Township High School. Because of the unlimited opportunities in the track field, nearly everyone who so wished was able to compete in the meets. For this reason, track looks as if it has found a permanent spot at Waterford.

As soon as the spring breezes began blowing around W.T.H.S., about forty-five cinder hopefuls turned out for the workouts which included several laps around the football field and a few exercises, such as sit-ups, chin-ups, and push-ups. For the first part of the season, the majority of these workouts were carried on during physical education classes.

After about two weeks of this training hurdles were set up, pits were dug, and tracks were marked off. From then on, work progressed rapidly in all lines.

Waterford's track and field team concentrated in ten events: the dashes (100, 200, and 440 yards, $\frac{1}{2}$ mile, and mile), relays, high and low hurdles, shot put, and the high jump.



On April 16, the trackmen went to the Yost Field House at the University of Michigan where they participated in the Ann Arbor Relays.

Throughout the season, various meets were scheduled, but results were not known at press-time.

A variety of sports and gymnasium activities dominated the boys' physical education classes during the past year. Under the supervision of Mr. Ortiz, the upperclass boys had detailed instruction in the basic principles of a number of the more popular sports.

Neither rain nor mud could keep the speedball couriers from carrying the mail as the boys batted the ball and each other around in spite of the weather.

Flipping and flopping, the boys underwent a tumbling course as a part of the indoor program. The aches and groans were many, but they learned to tumble.

UPPERCLASS GYM

The basketball program consisted of two versions of the cage game: sideline basketball and commando basketball. The former was played by passing the ball to excess players on the side of the court. The latter explains itself.

In the few weeks of cold weather that were experienced by Oakland County, a lot of ice-skating was done on the pond in the woods behind the school. Bill Smithson, below, demonstrates why this appealed to the boys and girls so much.

Softball managed to take up the majority of the warm spring weather, as the bats, balls, and gloves were hauled out of the attic for another year of "the national pastime."

LIFE SAVING

Second row: Jean Allen, Mr. Isaacson, Max Stamp, Harriet Smith, Pat Wood, Barbara Kremlick, Janie Mixter, Sally Eaton, and Kay Leslie.

"Now, Leo, you know you know you aren't a good hair-carry victim." "Try the under water approach." "No, no, straighten your arms."

Such were the shouts that echoed around the swimming pool at Pontiac High School, as nearly twenty-five of Waterford's aquatic fanatics underwent a ten-week Senior Life-Saving course.

As instructors, the group had Mr. and Mrs. William Isaacson, and "Ozzie" Watchpocket.

When the final ripple died out on the last night of instruction, twenty-three of the water-lovers had attained the rank of Senior Life Saver.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The freshmen proved again that what they lack in size is made up for in spunk. The "Cabin Boys," as the junior varsity football team was named, managed to cop two wins from a five-game schedule, for a .400 average.

The "Cabin Boys" hit pay dirt for the first time as they tripped Bloomfield 14-6, with Jim Amos and Henry Lanctot scoring the points that broke the back of the Bloomfield J.V.

In the final game, Jim Amos went across for two more touchdowns as W.T.H.S. dropped Detroit Country Day 14-7 for the second win.

FRESHMAN GYM

The freshman gym classes passed quickly under the supervision of Mr. Hackett. The underclassmen experienced a number of new activities, including boxing, wrestling, box-hockey, and weight-lifting, in addition to the old stand-bys of basketball, touch football, softball, and speedball.

TUMBLING

"Did anybody lose any shoes?" They might belong to any of these girls. Standing is Dorothy Austin' standing on their partners' knees are Jackie Baldwin and Billie Davis' on their backs are Joyce Mayo and Beverly Coopes.

GIRLS SPORTS

Administration

MR. SHUNCK

Foremost on Waterford Township School's list of administrators is Mr. William Shunck, Superintendent. His resourcefulness and ingenuity have done much for the high school.

Aiding him are the six members of the Board of Education: Jayno W. Adams, president; Marshall Smith, secretary; John O. Radenbaugh, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Vann and Elmer R. Fangboner, trustees.

W. T. H. S.

September 20, 1947, was an eventful day for the occupants of Waterford Township, especially teen-agers. It was on this day that the temporary building was completed. Though filled to capacity, the building was well constructed and it fills the needs of the students as well as possible under the circumstances.

OFFICE ADMINISTRATION

On the darkest day, the office is lit up by the beaming faces of the office administration. They are always willing and cooperative in help to our students. "Hurray" for our office force!

CUSTODIANS

Mr. Wilkinson is in charge of all business of keeping up the buildings and grounds of Waterford Township Schools. Mr. Milleur and Mr. Mayer are responsible for keeping our building spotless, and credit should be heaped on them for their good work.

Underclassmen

FRESHMAN OFFICERS

"No Visitors Allowed," a skit, was given at a freshman assembly November 24. The freshman also had Christmas parties. The highlight of the year was the auction held at W.T.H.S. March 19. Several Wednesday night dances, and a Valentines dance were sponsored by the graduating class of 1952. The freshman adviser was Betty Lou Lindsay.

SOPHOMORE OFFICERS

Many projects were undertaken for fun as well as to make money. Instead of an initiation they gave a party to welcome the freshmen. They sponsored several Wednesday night dances. Two paper drives netted approximately $164. They also sold candy, every day in the hall making a substantial profit.

Miss Bulla and her proteges have said, jokingly of course, that they may even go on a Mediterranean cruise for their senior trip.

The juniors started their activities off with the production of "Show Boat." It was presented on January 14 and 15. They had a paper and scrap drive to help earn money.

February 18 found them sponsoring "The Sock Hop." Since then, they have had charge of several of the Wednesday night dances.

Many of the juniors participated in the production of "The Inner Willy" which was a success.

A donkey ball game was one of the many attractions sponsored by the juniors. Many laughs and falls helped to make fun for the spectators.

In the spring they sponsored another big dance with music provided by a colored band. The dance was patterned on a theatrical theme which was very unusual and helped to add to the anticipation and enjoyment of the couples attending.

SENIORS

Laurels to the senior class!
We'll miss them when from school they pass.
They've shared our joys and sorrows too.
They've been real friends to me and you.
And as they take the road of life
They'll meet with sadness and with strife.
But we believe they'll pass right through
And make their hopes and dreams come true.
Some might be politicians grave,
Others, adventurers so brave,
Editors for New York papers,
Contractors for huge skyscrapers -
Doctors, lawyers, dancers, crooners,
Dentists, nurses, honeymooners.
But whate'er career they choose,
We know they'll always win, not lose.
They'll climb the stairway to success,
And attain fame and happiness.
They'll make our high school proud to say
T'was here they worked to pave the way.
And as they look back through the years
We hope they smile and shed no tears
But cherish tender memories
Of all our school activities.

SENIOR OFFICERS

Commencing their final year, the seniors elected their leaders in the persons of Robert A. Webb, president; Roberta Dean, vice-president; (standing) Sally Eaton, secretary; and Phyllis Brinker, treasurer.

Success was the key note of the year as they made and followed through extensive plans for obtaining their ultimate goal-----Senior Trip.

Warming up exercises for the work ahead consisted of the sponsoring of several Wednesday night dances at the Community Hall. The dates were January 12 and February 23.

March 5 climaxed the long grind for the seniors as they presented Neptune's Festival at the Waterford Township High School. This gala affair offered fun, excitement, prizes, and good times for all. Just a few of the events were the cake walk, bean guessing booth, ships store, and puppet show. When the final tabulations were in, the senior treasury had been increased by $425.00.

Throughout the year minor projects were carried on. T-shirts and babushkas, fudge sales, and paper drives all brought in their share of the treasured cash.

At long last the dream of many was fulfilled when the seniors presented the annual Prom at the Elks Temple on April 22. Bulging over with unchecked anxiety everyone dreamed of that zenith of high school careers. Dancing to the mellow music of Bud Kremer, the girl of your dreams in your arms, and soft lights gently enticing the situation, many seniors caught tears of remorse as they thought that this was their last fling at a successful high school education!

As the dramatists would say, "the senior trip was the anti-climax ". Yes! Maybe it was, but the seniors grasped and carefully clung to the memories of that six-day trip, and will forever hold them in their hearts.

Many a tear was shed on June 16 in the school auditorium as the seniors received the diplomas that meant the end of four years of blood, sweat, and tears. Fortunately a good deal of the time was spent in social events. Anyway the school year of 1948-1949 proved to be one of the best for all.

Bon voyage to you, seniors!
Good luck in all you do.
Although you'll not be with us,
We'll all remember you.
You'll travel o'er the wide,
wide world
Each in his separate sphere,
But if you ever should come back,
You'll find a welcome here.
So, good luck to you, seniors!
The time has come to part,
And if you gain success and fame,
'Twas here you got your start.

SENIOR PROM

ASSEMBLY

Mouths open, eyes full!! Thus are described the students of W.T.H.S. as they witness one of the frequent assemblies, humorous or otherwise, that occurred during the school year. These assemblies included everything from campaign speeches to disc-jockey shows; from hill-billy singers to a telephone program.
